

Associate Treasurer

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Vancouver, BC

A unique and exciting scope of responsibility awaits the new Associate Treasurer of The University of British Columbia. As a key member of the Treasury senior management team, the Associate Treasurer is responsible for supporting and implementing university-wide Treasury strategic initiatives on both UBC campuses. In addition, the Associate Treasurer will support the overall accountability for the safeguarding and leveraging of the University's $4.5 billion of assets, and assist in the implementation of strategic plans for the University in the areas of cash and debt management, business contract management and long term plans related to the University's borrowing. The Associate Treasurer will act as the Treasurer's representative on committees and develop business cases and presentations for the Treasurer, Vice President, Finance & Operations and the UBC Board of Governors. A significant amount of collaboration with internal UBC departments to develop initiatives and oversee implementation plans will be required.

The Associate Treasurer will be a senior corporate finance professional with leadership experience preferably within a large, complex, multi-functional organization. The incumbent will bring superior technical knowledge in financial modeling, forecasting and capital structure and will be comfortable producing meaningful reports for both financially literate as well as non-financial audiences. A strong influencer and collaborator, the incumbent will have the ability to build and maintain trust and relationships at all levels. An undergraduate degree will be augmented by an MBA in finance or economics and/or an accounting designation as well as at least 15 years of progressively senior leadership experience.
